comedian/ actor/ writer

From BET's "Comic View" to "The Tyra Banks Show" from "Comedy Central Presents..." to the "Today Show", Finesse Mitchell got his big break when he was asked to be a feature player on NBC's "Saturday Night Live" and was promoted to cast member in 2005. Long before becoming a regular on SNL, this author, actor and former insurance salesman made an impact in the world of stand-up comedy, with sold-out live performances all over the country and abroad. Born and raised in Atlanta, Georgia, Finesse graduated from the University of Miami. A former student-athlete who was a walk-on for the Hurricanes football team, Finesse played with other UM alumni such as Dwayne "The Rock" Johnson and Warren Sapp. Finesse is also a distinguished member of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity Incorporated.
